Introduction

This bibliography has been compiled under the auspices of the Royal Institute of Translation and Publication of Iran, under my supervision, with the valuable advice of a committee consisting of Dr. A. D. H. Bivar, Professor Mary Boyce, Professor R. E. Emmerick, Professor I. Gershevitch, Dr. D. N. MacKenzie and Professor E. Yarshater.

Work on the collection of material was begun by Mrs. Mary-Jo Clogg and Mrs. Ann Walsh in August 1968, but the main part of the work was done by Mrs. Verity Irvine (née Hitchins), who took over in August 1969. Entries have been culled from existing bibliographies, from footnotes and lists of references in other books, and from the catalogues of libraries such as the British Museum, Edinburgh University Library and the Library of the School of Oriental and African Studies. Many runs of periodicals have been exhaustively checked.

It was originally intended to check each entry de visu before inclusion but it was found that the volume of material was much greater than had been anticipated, and as the work had to be completed to a time-limit, it was not, unfortunately, possible to check a certain number of entries. These have been included for the sake of completeness, marked with an asterisk. Some will be found to be incomplete, while some are obviously dubious, and for entries so marked the compilers accept no responsibility whatsoever!

Specialists will probably find the classification system rather arbitrary; however, an author index is included, which it is hoped will be of some help. The bibliography represents an attempt to include all the printed literature available in western European languages. Soviet publications have been omitted because an adequate bibliography of these already exists. Following the advice of the General Editor, a selection of publications in the Persian language was later prepared by Dr. Ahmad Tafazzoli of the University of Tehran, and incorporated in the bibliography. Original texts and translation of classical sources such as Herodotus, Xenophon, Plutarch, etc. have not been included: articles dealing with them will be found in Section B.

My grateful thanks are due to the advisory Committee, especially to Dr. A. D. H. Bivar and Dr. D. N. MacKenzie, for their help and encouragement, and to Dr. A. K. Irvine, husband of the chief compiler, who was responsible for the author index.
